

EES ONLINE CONFERENCE 6-10 SEPTEMBER 2021 APPLICATIONS FOR BURSARIES NOW BEING ACCEPTED

EES is pleased to announce a Bursary Programme for the forthcoming Online Conference and Professional Development Workshops for 6-10 September 2021. The bursary programme aims to contribute to building evaluation capacity in developing countries. The selection gives priority to applicants who are active in the evaluation communities in their home countries. In turn, the presence of evaluators from all over the world enriches the conference experience for all participants, as it contributes to a diversity of perspectives, including on the realities of undertaking evaluations in developing countries.

EES is thankful to the Thanks to the generous support from the Global Environmental Facility \(GEF\) for sponsoring bursaries for this Online Conference.

Information about EES Goes Virtual: Evaluation in an Uncertain World: Complexity, Legitimacy and Ethics can be found here.

Eligible candidates are:

- A citizen from a developing country (in receipt of overseas development assistance) who lives and works in a developing country most of the time (*Applicable for citizens of countries with low-income, lower-middle income or upper-middle income economies according to the classification of GDP per capita of the World Bank. Some bursary sponsors have specific requirements, which EES will reflect in the selection process.)
- Involved in evaluation in their home country (*Proof of this needs to be provided in the application form.)
- Priority will be given to candidates working on issues related to the environment, climate change, and other topics that are relevant to GEF's mandate.

Applications will go through a strict review process during which additional information may be asked from the applicants.

Please note the EES bursary support can only be received once by each individual: individuals who received bursary support for previous conferences are not eligible.

There is little time: please submit your application no later than 22 August 2021.

Please feel free to circulate this email to relevant colleague evaluators from developing countries

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at eesbursaries@gmail.com.

BURSARY APPLICATION FORM

First name and surname_____

Country_____

Institution (if freelance state 'self-employed')_____

Institution Address_____

Contact email_____

Please describe your professional and study background:

How are you involved in Evaluation in your country?

Which of the following are you applying for (check 1):

EES Online Conference 9-10 September 2021

The Professional Development Workshop "How to Incorporate Environmental Sustainability into Evaluation"

What is your motivation for attending the online conference / PDW workshop?

How does your work relate to the environment, climate change, and/or national resources management?

Please attach to your email two samples of your written documentation relevant to your work of up to 1,000 words each (you may select a sample from a report or monitoring schedule, or other documents you have written). If you have no relevant samples, you may send other proof of your evaluation activities in your country.

Please send your application to the following email address:

eesbursaries@gmail.com.